Follow the Leader (FTL)	Stay tight as you follow Reda or a pro on a tour of Port Carverton. Fall too far behind, and they'll ditch you.
Deathrace	Go flat out to cross the finish line first. No prob, except for the other skaters looking to beat you.
Photo	Give the photog the sick shots he wants off whatever obstacle he points out to boost your coverage. If it's not good enough, you have to do it again.
Film	Pull off one or more objectives under time and make it look good, because the footy represents what your company is all about.
Hall of Meat (HOM) Challenge	There are 206 bones in the human body; break as many of 'em as you can in a single massive bail. Bonus points for doing it with style.
Hall of Meat (HOM) Battle	Competitive self-abuse, as you strive to work yourself more than the competition before time runs out.
Spot Battle	You get three shots to nab the high score on a particular spot. Unfortunately, so does your competition.
Contests	Multi-round, hosted contests split between single best trick formats and go-for-broke jams (or both). Total score across all rounds decides the winner.

Skater knowledge: Trigger a bail at any time by pressing and holding LT RT and pulling LT RT at the same time, and increase your Hall of Meat score by jumping off, pulling a gesture, and orienting your body like you totally meant to do that.

Session Markers

Why waste time pushing up a hill every time you bomb it? Set a session marker right where you're standing by holding LB and then pressing ↓. Now you can instantly teleport right back to that spot just by holding LB and then pressing ↑.

Some challenges automatically set session markers for you, but you can set one (and only one) of your own anywhere, at any time.

Challenge Maps

Don't feel like scouting the whole town for a decent spot to shred? Go to your challenge map (for Career or Online) from the pause menu, find a location just waiting to be sessioned, and then teleport right to the challenge you want to try. Also see any unlocked teleport markers you can use to save time.

Teams

A company is only as good as its team, and it's your job to put together the best teams you can to represent your company. You'll roll with two different teams; one offline in Career mode, one for online fun.

Skater knowledge: There's plenty of graphics in-game to choose your team logo from, but you can also create your own logo with the Skate 3 Graphic Creator at skate.ea.com. Just attach it to your gamertag and download it to the game.

The Career Team

Reach certain milestones in your career, and skaters will want to get hooked up by your company. Recruit them and they'll represent you and your brand. You can play as members of your team during certain photo and film challenges and Free Play. They're also available if you use the Skate With feature in non-challenge modes.

Manage your team and yourself from the My Career Team screen, off the Career Main list on the pause menu.

The Online Team

Hook up with other live players and tear up Port Carverton. You can only belong to one online team at a time.

Go to the pause menu and select ONLINE TEAM from the Xbox LIVE menu to start or join an online team. If you start one yourself, you're the owner; invite other players who want to join your team. As the team owner, you also name the team, manage the roster, decide what content created by team members represents the team, and set the various tags used to identify your team.

Total cash and board sales earned from completing online team challenges by the online team is viewable, but actual amounts are awarded to individual members, not the team.
